THIRTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 827

Introduced by Honorable Gilberto C. Teodoro, Jr.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to convert the 35.766 - kilometer Mayantoc-San Clemente Road, which traverses along Poblacion-Mamunit-Pitombayog Road, Mayantoc-San Bartolome Road, Barangay Road and Mayantoc-San Clemente Road in the Municipalities of Mayantoc and San Clemente, Province of Tarlac into a National Road. It forms part of the provincial circumferential road network that include fifteen (15) road arteries, the conversion of which to national roads are also being sought.

The Province of Tarlac is a predominantly agricultural area. Its overall spatial framework is directed towards its development as the "Agro-Industrial Hub of Central Luzon" as envisioned in the Regional Physical Development Framework. Landlocked by the four provinces of Pangasinan, Nueva Ecija, Pampanga and Zambales, Tarlac is in a strategic position for development takeoff, as it provides vital access to and from these four provinces. It is thus, imperative that the road arteries that provide the link be improved and properly maintained as they serve as the critical links to the movement of goods and services in the entire Northern Luzon. The Mayantoc-San Clemente Road is one such artery forming part of the circumferential road network linking the various provinces in Northern Luzon.

While the administration of the Province of Tarlac recognizes the important role of roads in facilitating economic and other productive endeavors, it does not have the financial capability to undertake the function of its proper maintenance and/or continuous improvement, dependent as it is on locally generated funds.

This bill then proposes the Conversion of the Mayantoc-San Clemente Road into a National Road and providing funds for this purpose.

The members of the 11th and 12th Congresses have recognized the importance of this bill that they deemed it necessary to pass it on third and final reading and send it to the Senate for approval.

In view of the importance of this bill, approval is earnestly sought.
