First Regular Session

House Bill No. 853

Introduced by Hon. Aurelio "Oyie" Matias Umali

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill aims to address the needs of farmers, fishermen and local entrepreneurs in the countryside by making the appointment of a Municipal Agriculturist mandatory for agricultural municipal governments.

Republic Act 7160, otherwise known as the Local Government Code of 1991, provides for the transfer of agricultural services from the national government to the local government. It mandates that the agriculturist should be in the frontline when it comes to the delivery of basic agricultural services, particularly those needed for the survival of the inhabitants during and in the aftermath of man-made and natural disasters and calamities.

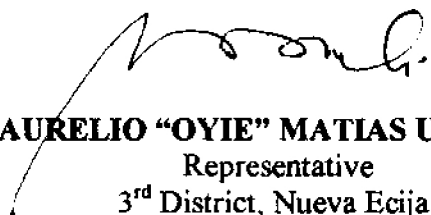

It also cites the important role of the agriculturist in formulating measures for the approval of the Sanggunian and in providing technical assistance and support to ensure the delivery of basic services and provision of adequate facilities relative to agricultural services.

However, studies conducted in areas outside Metro Manila reveal that the absorption and adoption of the devolved functions vary depending on the priority concerns of the local government unit's agenda and the relevance of such functions to their existing community problems and needs.

The mandatory hiring of a municipal agriculturist can help solve and avert a number of agricultural problems. The municipal agriculturist can be tapped to provide special service to farmers, including technical information and advice, to improve the quality and yield of crops and livestock. Further, the municipal government is assured that it can rely on the expertise of the agriculturist at all times as he shall be tasked to steer the office for agricultural service and to perform the duties and functions prescribed by law.

There is therefore a need to recognize the crucial role of the municipal agriculturist in the light of President Arroyo's agenda of having a modernized agricultural sector.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
