HOUSE BILL NO. 3749

Introduced by the Honorable Benjamin C. Agarao, Jr.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The upsurge of technological advances have lead us to an enormous and unquantifiable development in terms of social and sometimes economic standards. We in fact have lost touch with some of our archaic and outmoded practices all in the name of progress. The use of computers has now been considered a necessity not only in areas of primordial interest but in our people's homes as well.

This piece of legislation seeks to establish an Information and Communications Technology Training Center in the municipality of Luisiana, Laguna. The principal objective of which is not only to encourage those who have not yet grasped the wonders of Information Technology but to strengthen and enlighten as well those who ideally know and share such potential to the promising members of the community. Such an objective bridges the gap between those who have less but is willing to learn the rudiments of Computer Technology.

In this light, immediate passage of this measure is earnestly sought.
