HOUSE BILL NO. 3829

Introduced by Honorable Roger G. Mercado

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill provides for the concreting and widening of the barangay road connecting Barangay Nasaug and Barangay San Rafael in Maasin City, Province of Southern Leyte.

Barangay roads are essential for the livelihood activities of the people in the rural areas. They are necessary in transporting farm produce to the markets. They are convenient links between the barangay and the poblacion, provide the means by which basic necessities are conveyed to remote places. Roads assure availability of basic services at all times, especially in cases of emergency, such as access to the town proper where hospitals, law enforcers, and government agencies are mostly located.

The cementing and widening of the road that connects Barangays Nasaug and San Rafael in Maasin City, Province of Southern Leyte is in response to the clamor of the people. During the dry season, the road is dusty and bumpy. On rainy days, it becomes a veritable muddy field.

Mobility is an important factor that determines progress. Roads primarily provide mobility, thus its absence or inferior condition is detrimental to the growth and development of a locality. In view thereof, the approval of this bill is earnestly requested.
