FIFTEENTH CONGRESS

HOUSE BILL NO. 167

---

Introduced by Honorable Eric Owen G. Singson, Jr.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to prevent and penalize computer fraud, abuses and other cyber related fraudulent activities and creating for the purpose Cyber-Crime Investigation and Coordinating Center (CICC) which shall investigate, coordinate, collate and synergize efforts of all law enforcement agencies in combating cyber crimes.

Advancements in information technology (IT) can be characterized as a double-edged sword. On one hand, advanced IT enhances reliability and promotes efficiency in facilitating the exchange and delivery of information. On the other hand, the value of high technology is vulnerable to exploitation and abuse. For one, confidential stored data can be readily accessed, intercepted and corrupted without permission or authority.

According to Time Magazine, the "Love Bug" virus, which originated from the Philippines destroyed $10 Billion worth of data files worldwide. Cyberspace users became wary of receiving information from the Philippines through the Internet for fear of computer viruses.

Although the recently approved E-Commerce Law provides penalties or sanctions on computer related crimes, it generally refers to all acts inimical to the use of computers and application of information technologies such as computer hacking, exhibiting and spreading of obscene or pornographic videos like the Kho-Halili scandal. The proposed Anti-Cyber Crime Law complements the E-Commerce Law as it further specifies cyber offenses and their corresponding penalties.

A stronger and more specific anti-cyber crime law is expected to deter computer users from indulging into illegal acts. Moreover, the law itself will send a signal to the international community that the country does not tolerate cyber crimes.

In view of the foregoing, immediate approval of this bill is highly recommended.
