HOUSE BILL NO. 2990

INTRODUCED BY REP. JOSEPH VICTOR G. EJERCITO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

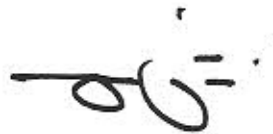

The onslaught of terrorist activities and the seeming proliferation of violent acts perpetrated against the government and other related establishments place soldiers' lives in jeopardy.

Admittedly or not, these individuals are at high risk, now more than ever. In fact, in the Southern part of the country, a number of recent incidents involving alleged abduction and worse, slaughter of soldiers, while performing duties, has been recorded both in official reports and major newspapers.

While the government currently undertakes effort to protect the lives of its employees, the proposed measure aims to provide assistance to immediate families of soldiers, who were killed while performing their solemn task of protecting the people and defending our country.

Through this bill, these immediate families shall not be displaced in the event of any untoward incident that may happen to their loved ones working in government.

Hence, immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
