HOUSE BILL NO. 3671

EXPLANATORY NOTE

First off, this bill has been filed in the last 14th Congress by Representatives Cinchona Cruz-Gonzales and Emmanuel Joel Villanueva both of whom are from the CIBAC Party List. The lady congresswoman, Rep. Cinchona Cruz-Gonzales is of course our present colleague in this 15th Congress.

The intention of this measure is to prescribe television rating codes for children and to prohibit violent and sexually themed non-educational programming on television during certain hours. In the case of those apparatuses equipped with technical capability for blocking signals, the bill authorizes MTRCB and NTC to jointly prescribe the rules of transmission.

As studies of the American Medical Association show, there are adverse effects of televised violence on child development or a marked increase in the level of aggressive behavior among children who view them. This was based on the May 1999 Report of the Hany Frank Guggenheim Foundation in the US where it found that there is an irrefutable connection between the amount of violence depicted in the television programs watched by children and increased aggression among them.

Inasmuch as P.D. 1986, that created the Movie and Television Review and Classification Board does not authorize MTRCB to prescribe ratings for violence and non-educational sexual themes in TV programming and rules for signals containing specifications for blocking violent and sexually themed non-educational programming in apparatuses with such technical capability and neither does R.A. 7925 (also known as the Public Telecommunications Policy Act of the Philippines) give such authority to the NTC for broadcast operations of public communications entities, this proposed measure intends to address this limitation.

Passage of this bill is henceforth, most sought.
