House Bill No. 3955

Introduced by: REP. PABLO P. GARCIA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

R.A No. 9520, or the Philippine Cooperative Code of 2008 is a landmark piece of legislation and constitutes a monumental triumph of the cooperative movement in the country. This is because: first, it is the enabling legal embodiment of a constitutionally declared state policy on cooperatives, and second, it is the clear recognition and adherence by our country to the time-honored and universally accepted principles on cooperatives. These principles are now part of the law of the land. More particularly, these are:

1. Government assistance 'to bring about a strong cooperative movement that is free from any conditions that might infringe upon the autonomy or organizational integrity of cooperatives.
2. State recognition of the principle of subsidiarity under which the cooperative sector will initiate and regulate within its own ranks, the promotion and organization, training and research audit and support services relative to cooperatives with government where necessary.
3. Democratic and member control in setting their policies and in making decisions.
4. Autonomy and independence from outside interference in the conduct and management of its internal affairs.

So vital or even so crucial are the above core policy and principles, so that now the following act is already considered a CRIME under Art. 140 (Penal Provision) of the Cooperative Code:

(4) Direct or indirect interference or intervention by any public official or employee into the internal affairs of a cooperative of which he is not a member, such as requiring prior clearance for any policy or decision with in the cooperatives or any other acts inimical or adverse to the autonomy and independence of cooperative (Sec.4,Art.140)

The provisions of the present Charter of the Cooperative Development Authority or CDA or R.A No. 9369 are already in consonance with the above core policy and principles of the Cooperative Code.

Thus, under Sec. 1 of R.A. No. 6939, Declaration of Policy – it is provided among others that:

“Toward this end, the Government and all its branches, subdivisions, instrumentalities and agencies shall ensure the provision of technical guidance, financial assistance and other services to enable said cooperatives to develop into viable and responsive economic enterprises and thereby bring about a strong cooperative movement that is free from any conditions that might infringe upon the autonomy or organizational integrity of cooperatives.

Further, the State recognizes the principle of subsidiarity under which the cooperative sector will initiate and regulate within its own ranks the promotion and organization, training and research, audit and support services relating to cooperatives with government assistance where necessary.”

However, while in the main, the present Charter of CDA is good enough to insure the effective implementation of the provisions of the Cooperative Code of 2008 (this Code was crafted and later adopted taking into consideration the present charter of CDA or R.A No. 9369), it will be convenient and desirable that some provisions of R.A No. 9369, be updated and amended to conform with the new provisions of R.A.No. 9520, that were not found in the old Cooperative Code or R.A. No 9368.

But in making the amendments, it must always be remembered that under the Cooperative Code of 2008, the CDA is mandated to implement its provisions and not to circumvent or even destroy them. The CDA exists to give force and effect to the provisions of the Cooperative Code 2008 and not the other way around.

This point has to be emphasized and underscored because past experience has shown that the CDA had incessantly and tirelessly tried to usurp and exercise powers beyond what are authorized under its Charter or R.A. No. 6969 and in clear violation of the old Cooperative Code or R.A. No. 9368. In one bold, rash and reckless gamble in 2007, the CDA, without any legal authority whatsoever, issued the so-called Manual of Rules and Regulations for Cooperatives with Saving or Credit services or the MORR. The CDA issued MORR knowing fully well that it was in blatant and ruthless disregard of Sec.123 of R.A No. 9368 or the Cooperative Code of 1990 and, therefore, ILLEGAL, NULL and VOID from the beginning.

This MORR would have surreptitiously overhauled and emasculated the provisions of the Cooperative Code because, with respect to cooperatives with savings and credit services, the CDA would have arrogated unto itself ultra vires powers similar to if not greater than that of the powers of the BSP (Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas) over banks. And what is worst is that CDA had inveigled the Secretary of Finance and even President GMA into signing this patently illegal, NULL and VOID document. Fortunately, CDA apparently realizing its horrendous blunder, voluntarily and unceremoniously withdrew this document from circulation, and, in effect, "killed" it.

However, even with the self-inflicted and unlamented "death" of the MORR and in spite of the passage of the Cooperative Code of 2008, there are "signs" that CDA is still hungering and lobbying for more powers than what are granted by the Coop Code of 2008 and by its present charter (R.A. No. 9369), in the guise of proposing the enactment of a new Charter for the CDA. In this way, CDA can, in effect, amend the Coop Code of 2008 not frontally but surreptitiously through the backdoor Very clever but very foul.

Be that as it may, there is a constant and never-ending need for those who profess to be true Coop leaders of the country or for those who claim to represent the great and noble cause of cooperatives, to be always watchful and vigilant in preserving and protecting the rights and privileges of cooperatives, as enshrined and held sacrosanct in the Cooperative Code of 2008 which according to some Coop leaders can justly be called as the Philippine Bible of Cooperatives.

The amendments to the Charter of CDA or R.A. No. 9369 proposed in this Bill are clearly in consonance with the provisions of the Cooperative Code of 2008 and are intended to enable the CDA to implement said provisions in an orderly and efficient manner. More importantly, these amendments are intended to promote, preserve and protect the autonomy and independence of cooperatives from outside interference in the conduct and management of their internal affairs.

Hence, early passage of the Bill is earnestly requested.
