FIFTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 5075

Introduced by REP SALVIO B. FORTUNO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks free hospitalization benefits in all government-run hospitals, clinic and other medical facilities to all retired government employees who have rendered at least a minimum of twenty (20) continuous years of service.

Government employees are persons who dedicated and offered their more productive lives serving the people. They are one of the principal reasons why the government is functioning. Without them, government services will be put to a halt, but this scenario is very unlikely to happen because government employees are ready to and very willing to sacrifice in order to properly carry out their specific roles in the government. This sacrifice and devotion should be rewarded during their tenure in the government as well as after their retirement.

In recognition to their sacrifice and long service in the government, it is proper that retired government employees who have served twenty (20) continuous service in the government be granted free hospitalization benefits in all government hospitals. Government employees who served the government for a long time are truly deserving of this benefit by reason of their dedication and sacrifices.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this bill is earnestly sought for.
