HOUSE BILL NO. 6571

Introduced by:

Hon. Christopher S. Co, Rodel M. Batocabe and Alfredo A. Garbin, Jr.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to institute a Public Administration and Governance Scholarship Program for the promotion of the development of the country's future public servants and government leaders, in order to create a transparent and accountable brand of leadership in government.

Throughout the political history of the Philippines, there is a continuing public outcry for good and honest public servants in government, and not only in the elective positions, but also in appointive and career positions. However, our country's educational system and the public perception that government service is for inept, corrupt and indolent people who could not be gainfully employed in high-paying jobs in the private sector, discourages young, idealistic students from pursuing the field of public administration and governance.

Through this bill, the State will be able to create an elite pool of young leaders who will turn around the image and impression on government service as a place where one can have a viable, successful and fulfilling career. It shall establish a network of young, dynamic individuals capable of and educated in excellent public administration and governance, who shall make their mark in civil service as soon as they are qualified to do so. The scholarship program shall encourage more students into pursuing fields of the study in the hopes of applying it to a career in public service.

More importantly, we have already established a scholarship program for scientists, teachers and the like, but we should all the more create such a program for aspiring public leaders if we want to determine the path towards a transparent and accountable government trusted and depended on by the Filipino people. If we truly want to make a Matuwid na Daan, we should make sure that our future leaders, those who will pave the way, are highly trained, honest, and full of integrity.

Accordingly, the swift passage of this bill is earnestly sought.

Hon. RODEL M. BATOCABE
