First Regular Session

House Bill No. 229

Introduced by Honorable LILIA M. NUÑO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Article II, Section 15 of the Philippine Constitution states that, "The State shall protect and promote the right to health of the people and instill health consciousness among them." At the forefront of the government's health advocacy, are our Barangay Health Workers.

Section 17 of Republic Act No. 7160 of the Local Government Code of 1991, mandates the Local Government Units (LGU's) to assume the health service implementation role in the communities, while the national government is responsible for ensuring technical standards and equity in health. Thus, the activities of Barangay Health Workers in the communities are operationally and administratively supported by LGU's.

Republic Act No. 7883, otherwise known as the Barangay Health Worker's Benefits and Incentives Act of 1995 officially recognized the invaluable contribution of Barangay Health Workers to the community health development. Barangay Health Workers, aside from providing basic health education and services at the grassroots level, also conducts data gathering imperative in determining urgent health issues; assists regularly in the immunization program launched periodically by the government; and helps the Population Commission (POPCOM) in the conduct of issues.

Under Republic Act No. 7883, Barangay Health Workers are given various incentives and benefits, such as hazard allowance and subsistence allowance, as well as other non-monetary entitlements. Aside from all of these, this bill proposes to grant a modest compensation in the form of an additional honorarium of Four Thousand Pesos (Php 4,000.00) to all Barangay Health Workers on top of the current One Thousand Pesos (Php 1,000.00) they receive per month from their respective LGU's. In order to help depressed 4th, 5th and 6th class LGU's, this bill further authorizes the national government to provide the necessary subsidy for the payment of the proposed honorarium to Barangay Health Workers nationwide.

Through this bill, Barangay Health Workers will receive a regular monthly compensation in the form of an honorarium of Five Thousand Pesos (Php 5,000.00), thereby ensuring their welfare and of the State, in general.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this Bill is earnestly requested.
