AN ACT
MANDATING THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE PROVIDERS TO SEND
FREE MOBILE ALERTS IN THE EVENT OF NATURAL AND MAN-MADE
DISASTERS AND CALAMITIES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

On average, 19 tropical cyclones or storms enter the Philippine Area of Responsibility in a typical year and of these usually 6 to 9 make landfall. When Tropical storms Ondoy and Pepeng struck almost three years ago, leaving hundreds dead and missing, thousands of families displaced and millions affected, the country bitterly mourned the ineptitude of the government to respond to calamities and provide needed assistance to the victims. Many of us recalled the Ormoc tragedy which killed more than eight thousand people when the flash floods swept the city at noon time.

The tragic loss of lives during typhoon season is almost a yearly spectacle, which the world can only watch in awe and disbelief as we suffer yet again. Disaster-prone countries such as Cuba and Japan have shown how preparedness and efficient alert mechanisms could prevent injuries and loss of lives. Unfortunately, the government has not learned from their example.

Many victims blame the government's lack of proper response to the situation. Often, the victims are caught unaware as they were not fully informed of the disaster looming in their midst. Modern notification systems, such as mobile phone alerts, can be used to augment the existing and inefficient system. The ubiquity of mobile phones should be maximized to send out emergency alerts, at no cost to consumers.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this Bill is earnestly sought.
