SIXTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 714

Introduced by HON. FLORENCIO C. GARAY

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to declare the Tinuy An Falls and its surrounding watershed areas in the City of Bislig, Province of Surigao del Sur as a protected landscape under Republic Act No. 7586, otherwise known as the National Integrated Protected Areas System (NIPAS) Act of 1992.

Located 195 kilometers north of Davao and 160 kilometers south of Butuan City, Tinuy-An Falls is a veritable paradise, with its three-tiered waterfall cascading down a multi-layered riverbed of stones. A rainbow formation greets early morning visitors, in a serene atmosphere surrounded by dipterocarp trees, ferns, orchids and vines.

Tinuy-An Falls and its watersheds belong to the South Diwata Range, one of the key biodiversity areas within the Eastern Mindanao Biodiversity Corridor, and is noted for being the last remaining lowland dipterocarp forest in Mindanao. It is home to one hundred forty-four (144) species of flora, thirty-three of which belong to species considered to be nearing extinction. Its forest and waters serve as habitat to ninety-one (91) species of fauna consisting of birds, mammals, amphibians, reptiles, freshwater fishes and crustaceans, of which thirty-five are categorized as "threatened", including the endangered Philippine Eagle (pithecopaga jefferyi).

The majestic beauty of Tinuy-An Falls has proven its tourism potential by being featured in the pages of the national Geographic, as well as capturing the attention of the global network CNN. However, its fabled beauty needs to be protected from indiscriminate and destructive human exploitation, and its rich wildlife resources preserved for the benefit of its future generations. The declaration of Tinuy-An Falls and Watersheds as a Protected Landscape will therefore enhance its biological diversity while ensuring its protection and sustainable development.

In view of its national and local significance, the approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
