EXPLANATORY NOTE

In the early morning hours last October 21, 2008, Dr. Francisco "Toto" Sarabia was driving his car along the North Bound lane of EDSA, near Santolan Road when his vehicle was rammed by a speeding Joanna Jesh Transport bus. The bus was reportedly racing with another Joanna Jesh Transport bus in an apparent bid to beat the later to the bus stop in order to be first in picking up passengers waiting of their ride.

Dr. Sarabia's car violently spun several times. Dr. Sarabia's companion was pulled-out of the wreck by bystanders before the vehicle burst into flames and exploded. It took the attending emergency personnel around fifteen minutes before they were able to put out the fire and recover Dr. Sarabia's charred remains.

The driver of the bus, Martinito Madrid, who later surrendered, admitted having figured in another accident just this April 2008, which accident resulted to injuries to a number of individuals. According to news reports, however, Madrid was involved in no less than seven (7) traffic accidents before the fatal incident which killed Dr. Sarabia.

Subsequent to the death of Dr. Sarabia, many more lives have been lost at EDSA and at the North Luzon Expressway (NLEX) and elsewhere due to speeding trucks and buses driven by reckless drivers.

Enough is enough! Too many lives have been claimed and too many dreams have been extinguished already by reckless, senseless drivers, often times driving hulking public utility buses (PUBs), container trucks, passenger vans, taxis and jeepneys, in wanton disregard of the safety and well-being of others on the road. It is time to hold these drivers accountable their acts of putting the lives and limbs of fellow drivers, passengers and commuters in harm's way.

Likewise, the operators and/or owners of these offending vehicles have to be made directly responsible for any damages, prejudice and injuries which may be caused by their wayward drivers in their employ in order to compel them to exercise extra-ordinary diligence in the selection and supervision of said drivers.

To date, however, reckless driving has not been defined as a crime in the statute books but is only penalized as a quasi-offense under Article 365 of the Revised Penal Code as reckless imprudence resulting to homicide, physical injuries and damage to property.

This bill seeks to define reckless driving in itself as a criminal offense and to provide stiffer penalties for its commission. Likewise, the bill makes the owner and/or operator of the offending vehicle principally and directly liable for the damage, injury and/or prejudice resulting from the incident unless they can show that they exercised extra-ordinary diligence in the selection and supervision of their drivers.

When passed into law, this bill will work to deter this pernicious practice or at the very least, keep reckless drivers away from our thoroughfares.

The immediate passage of this bill is most earnestly requested.
