HOUSE BILL NO. 1234

Introduced by HON. JORGE T. ALMONTE

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Republic Act No. 7160 as amended, otherwise known as the Local Government Code of 1991 devolves gargantuan powers and functions to local government units including barangays. Having awesome responsibilities come privileges to barangay officials who are explicitly mandated to perform basic services to the people. It is quite unfortunate however that this landmark legislation expressly limits certain benefit only to barangay officials. It is noteworthy to mention that notwithstanding the fact that the other barangay workers like barangay tanods and accredited barangay health workers who also act as frontliners in the delivery of essential services to barangay constituents, they are not given certain benefits granted to barangay officials like exemption during their incumbency from paying tuition and matriculation fees for their legitimate dependent children attending state colleges or universities.

It is therefore the paramount objective of this important piece of legislation to extend educational benefit to legitimate dependent children of barangay tanods and accredited barangay health workers during their incumbency. This benefit will certainly be of great help to further strengthen and systemize their services to their beloved community.

In view of the foregoing reasons, the approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
