HOUSE BILL NO. 2013

Introduced by HONORABLE FRANZ "CHICOY" E. ALVAREZ

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to convert Sandoval Barangay High School in Barangay Sandoval, Municipality of Taytay, Province of Palawan, into a national high school to be known as the Sandoval National High School.

Barangay Sandoval is one of the most progressive barangays in the Municipality of Taytay. Its inhabitants are engaged in various economic activities, such as fishing, farming and trading and who for many years have chosen to settle in the place. The barangay offers a lot of economic promises.

Despite the apparent potential of its economy and its growing population, quality of education is hardly accessible to the youth of the barangay. The customary problem is the lack of funds.

Since its opening many years ago, the Sandoval Barangay High School has relied on the support of the local government units, the local association of parents and teachers, and the concerned citizens for the operation and maintenance.

The steady increase in enrollment of the barangay high school has strained its already meager budget, thereby adversely affecting the quality of instruction and the smooth administration of the school.

Considering their other concerns, financial support from the local government units is expectedly insufficient. Thus, the concerned teachers and officials source funds to continuously make available formal education to students.

The conversion of the school into an independent and nationally-funded high school will improve its funding support. A sufficient number of teachers can be hired. More books, instructional materials and facilities can be made available to students to make them more competitive.

With the conversion, the government can bring education down to the grassroots and save a good number of youth from virtual certainty of ignorance and failure.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate enactment of this bill is earnestly sought.
