SIXTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 3777

Introduced by REP. ALFREDO "ALBEE" B. BENITEZ

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Public Investment on education is crucial to a nation's development efforts as it builds the citizens' capacity for future progress by ensuring that the youth are equipped with knowledge and their talents harnessed. In this regard, education has always taken up the largest chunk of the government's budget. However, there are still a number of factors that impedes the delivery of quality education.

One of these impediments is the backlog on school buildings which impacts on the Filipinos' right to access quality education. Adding to this problem is the fact that a number of school sites are unregistered and are subjected to disputes, frequent transfer of locations and or revocation of donations of lands where they are situated. Some of the school sites that were donated lack proper legal documentation of transfer of ownership to the Department of Education which results to the land disputes filed by some of the relatives of the donors.

Senator Francis Escudero filed Senate Bill No. 1730 in the Senate which would effectively address the issue in the ownership of several school sites in the country by providing for the summary titling of real properties used as public school sites. In addition, said bill also declares that DepEd will be the prima facie owner of all unregistered qualified school sites.

In one with the objectives of Senator Escudero's bill, this representation is filing the same version of the bill with the hope that the enactment of this proposed policy shall respond to the problems over land disputes over school sites and more importantly, allow school administrators to focus on the improvement and efficient delivery of quality education to their students instead.

In view thereof, the approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
