HOUSE BILL NO. 4255

Introduced by Honorable Arturo B. Robes

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Constitution mandates the State to provide free elementary and secondary education. With the implementation of Republic Act 6655 (Free Public Secondary Education Act), the number of students wanting to avail of this benefit has increased. This magnanimity, however, on the part of the State becomes irrelevant in places where there are demands for elementary education but there are no available school buildings and teachers to speak of, hence, the need to establish more public secondary schools.

There is an overriding need for the establishment of a national high school in Barangay San Manuel in the City of San Jose Del Monte. The Barangay serves as the receiving relocation site for a spill-over population of Metropolitan Manila numbering to over 3,000 families. This number further increased its population to over 42,000 from 28,320 in 2013.

The creation of such a public elementary school, for one, is an embodiment of the mandated provision of basic services contemplated under Republic Act 7279 or the "Urban Development and Housing Act". This law provides that resettlement areas shall be provided basic services and facilities for education. So that, while the spirit of this law is complied with via the creation of such a public elementary school, it will also ease the condition of students living in this Barangay who, in pursuit of elementary education, still need to enroll in, travel to, and attend classes at government-run elementary schools in other Barangays of the City and other adjoining towns.

This bill, thus, proposes the establishment of a public elementary school in Barangay San Manuel, City of San Jose Del Monte, Bulacan, to be known as the "San Manuel National High School". It is made in response to the clamor of its existing and newly-established residents to uplift their social well-being and grant them convenient access to free and quality basic education guaranteed them by the Constitution.

The approval of this bill is, thus, earnestly sought.
