SIXTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 4336

Introduced by : Rep. Josephine Y. Ramirez-Sato

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Philippines is described as one of the biodiversity hotspot in the world and belonging to one of the seventeen (17) megadiverse countries. It is host to 70-80% of the world's life forms and is believed to harbor more diversity of life than any other country on earth on a per hectare basis. Unfortunately, the country is losing its biodiversity at an unprecedented scale. The unmitigated and destructive human activities have put the country in a biodiversity "crisis" that could take decades to reverse.

The Article XII, Section 4 of the 1987 Constitution states that, "the Congress shall, as soon as possible, determine, by law, the specific limits of forest lands and national parks, marking clearly their boundaries on the ground".

To this end, Republic Act No. 7586, otherwise known as the "National Integrated Protected Area System (NIPAS) Act of 1992", or the NIPAS Act, was passed establishing a system of protected areas within the classification of national park as provided for in the Constitution. The system consists of all areas or islands in the Philippines proclaimed, designated or set aside, pursuant to a law, presidential decree, presidential proclamation, or executive order as national park, game refuge, bird and wildlife sanctuary, wilderness area, strict nature reserve, watershed, mangrove reserve, fish sanctuary, natural and historical landmark, protected and managed landscape/seascape as well as identified virgin forests before the effectivity of the NIPAS Act.

The NIPAS Act also provides for the integration of additional areas into the System through a lengthy and careful inclusion procedure. This includes the conduct of suitability assessments, publication and public hearings, which then leads to the issuance of a Presidential proclamation and culminates in the final declaration and classification of the land and by Congress as a national park.

Since 1992, 113 have been declared through Presidential proclamations as protected areas under the NIPAS. However, only thirteen (13) protected areas have finally proceeded to be legislated as such in more than twenty (20) years since the NIPAS Act was enacted. It is imperative that the proclaimed protected areas after the effectivity of the Act are finally declared as such through Congressional fiat as required by the NIPAS Act pursuant to the directive of the Constitution.

Furthermore, there are many proclaimed Protected Areas in the country categorized as initial components that are still unproclaimed under NIPAS. These are also identified as key biodiversity areas in the country that is home to endemic and critically endangered species of flora and fauna.

The President has sent to the Senate and the House of Representatives his recommendations on the addition of these areas into the NIPAS under the land classification of national park.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.

HON. JOSEPHINE Y. RAMIREZ-SATO
Lone District of Occidental Mindoro
