

Republic of the Philippines
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SIXTEENTH CONGRESS
Second Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 5330

Introduced by Rep. Winston "Winnie" Castelo

EXPLANATORY NOTE

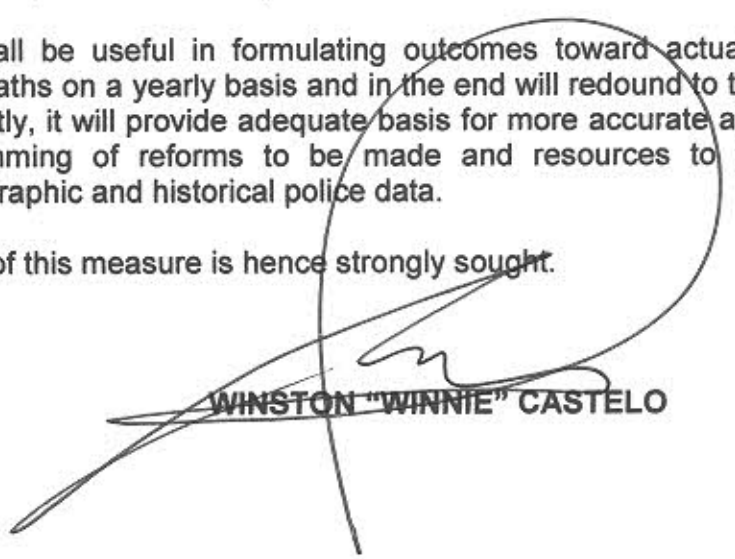

No database yet exists that readily provides immediate, helpful, and reliable information when it comes to matters of record involving police shootings and other deaths in law enforcement custody.

This, for example, includes those who are killed by police during a stop, arrest, or other interaction. It may have to likewise include those who die in jail or prison. Such information or details to be fully useful should include gender, age, and other circumstances surrounding the death. In other words, it is of great importance that police departments shall henceforth now be required to count how many people they shoot, in aid of legislation.

One of the best approaches to reform the police has to start with the availability of such information and this database from local police departments should form the basis of national database on police shootings and other deaths resulting from law enforcement custody or interaction, as the case may be.

This same database shall be useful in formulating outcomes toward actually reducing the number of such deaths on a yearly basis and in the end will redound to the good of society. More importantly, it will provide adequate basis for more accurate and efficient planning and programming of reforms to be made and resources to be distributed based on these geographic and historical police data.

The immediate passage of this measure is hence strongly sought.
