SEVENTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 4422

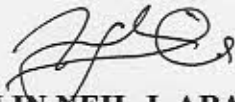

Introduced by Representative Harlin Neil J. Abayon III

EXPLANATORY NOTE

According to studies, proliferation of urban farming is beneficial to the urban community as the vegetation absorbs water runoff by storing water from rain, improves air quality, reduces noise pollution, and mitigates urban heat. It can also serve as a natural habitat and wildlife corridor for migrating species and act as a carbon sink.

In view of the above benefits and to encourage people to embrace urban farming, this bill provides for a real property tax credit worth ten (10) pesos for every square meter allotted to and maintained urban farm.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this initiative is earnestly sought.
