

SEVENTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE)
REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES)
First Regular Session)

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
H. No. 5837

Introduced by Representative Raul C. Tupas

EXPLANATORY NOTE

AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE CREATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF TECHNICAL EDUCATION TRAINING AND CERTIFICATION (DepTeTC), DEFINING ITS POWERS
AND FUNCTIONS, APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR, AMENDING REPUBLIC
ACT NO. 7796, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS THE TESDA ACT OF 1994, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES

The Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA) was established through the enactment of Republic Act No. 7796 otherwise known as the "Technical Education and Skills Development Act of 1994" with the aim to encourage the full participation of and mobilize the industry, labor, local government units and technical-vocational institutions in the skills development of the country's human resources.

The said Act integrated the functions of the former National Manpower and Youth Council (NMYC), the Bureau of Technical-Vocational Education of the Department of Education, Culture and Sports (BTVE-DECS) and the Office of Apprenticeship of the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE) as a result of a national review of the state of Philippine education and manpower development which was undertaken by the Congressional Commission on Education back in 1991.

TESDA has been the leading authority managing technical skills education in the Philippines. Its major thrust is the formulation of a comprehensive development plan for middle-level manpower based on the National Technical Education and Skills Development Plan that includes apprenticeship, dual training system and other similar schemes.

Under the new administration, TESDA is repositioning technical vocational education and training (TVET) towards a two-pronged strategy: TVET for global competitiveness and TVET for social equity. However, these strategies may not be realized if educational equipment and materials are still among the primary problems that prevent the progress of TESDA. According to Secretary Mamondiong, there is a need for renovation and upgrading of more than 100 training centers nationwide. More importantly, monitoring and evaluation is considered the weakest point of TESDA. Presently, TESDA does not have power to impose sanctions and the Training Regulations (TR) of the agency is being implemented as mere guidelines.

It is imperative to review R.A. No. 7796 and empower the TESDA with the status of an executive department. This bill seeks to create the Department of Technical Education Training and Certification. The TESDA shall be subsumed under the said new Department. This new Department shall be the primary policy formulation, planning, coordinating, implementing, regulating and administrative entity of the government for technical education, training, and certification policies, plans and programs. It shall now be headed by a Secretary with four (4) Undersecretaries and four (4) Assistant Secretaries. There will be regional offices headed by Regional Directors. The existing TESDA Secretariat would be enlarged and empowered more.

With this proposed measure, the TESDA will be strengthened as an institution. It would have a better capacity to fulfill its mandate as the leading partner in the development of the Filipino workforce with world-class competence and positive work values.

The immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.

RAUL "BOBOY" C. TUPAS
