SEVENTEENTH CONGRESS
Second Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 6289

Introduced by HON. LUIS RAYMUND "LRAY" F. VILLAFUERTE, JR.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Reports have it that over seventy percent (70%) of the world's fish stocks are fully exploited or are already overfished. Overfishing is a major concern globally, with experts issuing warnings that if sustainable fishing is not practiced and oceans are not given time to recover, they could become 'virtual deserts' by 2050 or barely 33 years from now¹.

Still, there is an ever-increasing demand for high-value marine species in both local and export markets. As fish stocks diminish, aquaculture is seen as way to satisfy the world's growing appetite for fish and at the same time allow wild fish species to multiply their numbers.

In the Philippines, aquaculture is a growing industry that provides livelihood to hundreds of thousands and their number is consistently on the rise. The potential of the sector in contributing significantly to the economic development of the country should be recognized and maximized, especially that many of our traditional fishing grounds are getting overfished.

The waters of Camarines Sur show great potential for marine hatcheries because of the abundance edible marine species of high commercial value there. The establishment of a marine hatchery in Minalabac likewise presents an opportunity for our fisherfolk to undergo training to improve productivity and be educated on the dangers of depletion due to unscientific and indiscriminate practices.

The approval of this bill is earnestly sought.

LUIS RAYMUND "LRAY" F. VILLAFUERTE, JR.
