

REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Quezon City

SEVENTEENTH CONGRESS
Second Regular Session

House Bill No. 7691

Introduced by MAGDALO Party-List Representative
HON. GARY C. ALEJANO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The State recognizes the role of the Philippine film industry as a potent tool for information gathering, dissemination and communication, and as a catalyst of public opinion. Being a powerful sector in the country, it is a medium that projects the Filipinos' love for art, as well as mirrors our culture and our national identity. More than this, it has a huge impact in providing significant contribution to the national economy in terms of employment generation and revenues to the government through taxes.

In recognition of the industry's contribution, and in support to the arts, the government created the Film Academy of the Philippines, an alliance of various guilds of the movie industry, which would oversee the welfare of its members through the provision of subsidies, projects and opportunities to develop their knowledge and expertise.¹ Furthermore, in 2002, the government created the Film Development Council that would establish and implement the Cinema Evaluation System and an incentive reward system to promote production of quality films; undertake activities to promote our participation in local and international market; and develop and promote programs to enhance the skills and expertise of Filipinos, among others.

Despite these, however, the local industry is in an evident decline, apparent in the number of movies produced. According to the study conducted by the National Statistical Coordination Board, the number of movies produced halved during the recent years. From 1960 to 1990, the Philippines produced about 140 movies annually. However, from 2000 to 2009, it fell to an average of 73 every year².

This bill, seeks to strengthen the support given by the government to the local movie industry by creating the Philippine Film Commission that would replace the Film Development Council of the Philippines. The Commission would be an independent body and representing a greater number of stakeholders through larger membership. It would extend the functions of the Film Development Council of the Philippines through the setting up of mechanics that would address the welfare of local film workers, and the establishment of cinema clubs in barangays and schools, as well as the integration of film-related courses in the collegiate level as part of film audience development program. Furthermore, this bill would also create a Film Endowment Board which shall provide subsidy for the production of worthwhile screenplays and films submitted to the Board for consideration.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
