SEVENTEENTH CONGRESS
THIRD REGULAR SESSION

House Bill No. 7963

INTRODUCED BY Rep. GREG G. GASATAYA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

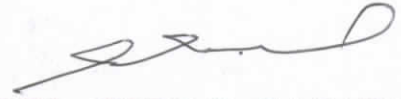

The University of the Philippines (UP) system comprises of eight (8) constituent universities in (17) campuses across the country. It has 258 undergraduate programs and 438 graduate programs with students from across the country. As the country's premiere university, UP continues to be a breeding ground of topnotch professionals in various fields such as government leaders, private industry leaders, lawyers, and academics.

Despite the number of UP campuses spread all over the country, only three (3) of its campuses, namely UP Miag-ao, UP Iloilo, and UP Tacloban cater to the hundreds of thousands of aspiring UP students in Visayas. As the Philippines is archipelagic, many poor and deserving students, especially those from areas far from the Visayas campuses, tend to be discouraged to pursue UP education as the geographical inaccessibility would translate to additional financial burden and separation from families and loved ones. For residents of Negros, the nearest UP campuses in Iloilo (UP Miag-ao and UP Iloilo City) are a land trip to the port and an hour ferry ride away.

Pursuant to Article XIV, Section 1 of the 1987 Constitution which asserts that "the State shall protect and promote the right of all citizens to quality education at all levels and shall take appropriate steps to make such education accessible to all," this bill seeks to establish a UP campus in Bacolod City to be known as UP Bacolod and bring educational opportunities to underprivileged but deserving students unable to pay for the quality but expensive education and costs of living in private institutions in Negros, its neighboring provinces, and in Metro Manila.

As such, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
