HOUSE BILL NO. 8323

Introduced by HON. LUIS RAYMUND "LRAY" F. VILLAFUERTE, JR.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Taxation is the very lifeblood of the State. It is an inherent power that allows the State to provide goods and services for the jurisdiction it serves. Thereby, it must not only be fiscally adequate and administratively feasible - it must be fair and unhindered. In line with this, the fourth package under the Comprehensive Tax Reform Program (CTRP) of the Duterte Administration is hereby proposed as the Capital Income and Financial Intermediary Taxation Act of 2018.

The bill seeks to reform the taxation of the financial sector, including capital and financial services, to be simpler, fairer, more efficient, and revenue neutral. As of the moment, there are some 80 tax rates and tax bases pertinent to the financial sector. The combinations of applicable tax rates on tax bases upon meeting certain qualifiers results in a complicated tax map with plenty of room for tax arbitrage or sly mechanisms to reduce a taxpayer's liability. This complexity entails high administrative and compliance cost, and discourages more transparent returns since taxpayers end up paying different taxes derived from the same base. The bill also encourages capital market development by adjusting, if not removing altogether, taxes that deter legitimate movement towards initial public listing of companies.

The specific objectives of the bill are the following:

- Provide neutrality in tax treatment across financial institutions and financial instruments;

- Simplify complex tax system;
- Improve equity across investors and savors;
- Minimize arbitrage opportunities; and
- Promote capital market development and tax competitiveness within the context of financial globalization, increased capital mobility, and financial inclusion.

To achieve the aforementioned goals, the Capital Income and Financial Intermediary Taxation Act of 2018 shall reform the financial sector taxation by the:

- Reduction in the number of rates of withholding taxes* - Due to the difficulties posed by various tax rates on interest income, distinctions are removed, such that a more uniform tax treatment is imposed on interest income regardless of currency, maturity, issuer, and other differentiating factors. Likewise, special rates and exemptions are removed.
- Unification of tax rates for interests, dividends, and capital gains* - Considering the complicated tax system on capital income, a more unified rate of tax is imposed for interests, dividends, and capital gains.
- Harmonization of business taxes* - A single GRT rate for all FIs, excluding premium tax on insurance, is imposed. For further harmonization of taxes, distinction between lending and non-lending activities, as well as the term of maturity of an instrument, is removed. A single rate of 5% is imposed. Pre-need, pension, life, and HMO insurance are all taxed similarly at a 2% premium tax rate. Non-life insurance is also subjected to a similar 5% premium tax rate.
- Removal or minimization of barriers to capital market development* - IPO tax, which is found to be detrimental to capital market development is removed. Overall, the DST of the financial sector is being rationalized to promote capital mobility.

- e) Adoption of a regionally competitive tax system - Considering that Philippine taxes on capital income is the highest in the ASEAN region, measures are taken towards the adoption of tax rates comparable to those of neighboring ASEAN nations and their best practices. With the reform, the proposed rates would be at par with the rates imposed in ASEAN to ensure competitiveness of the domestic capital market.

The Duterte Administration remains steadfast in delivering its unprecedented economic goals, part of which is the massive Build, Build, Build infrastructure program already underway. In order to fund the aforementioned projects, this Representation believes that the fourth package of the Tax Reform for Acceleration and Inclusion (TRAIN) is of critical importance and must not be delayed.

In consideration of the foregoing premises, the passage of this bill is urgently sought.

SEC. 1. Title. This Act shall be known as the "Capital Income and Financial Intermediary Taxation Act of 2018."

1. The State shall promote and develop a tax system that provides neutrality in the tax treatment across financial institutions and financial instruments.
2. The State shall endeavor to simplify an otherwise complex tax system for easy compliance.
3. The State shall ensure that the taxation of capital income and financial transactions is equitable across all stakeholders and discourages arbitrage opportunities.
