EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 4783

Introduced by: REPRESENTATIVE CIRIACO B. GATO, JR., M.D.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to convert the Batanes State College (BSC) into a State University to be known as the "Batanes State University".

The Batanes State College (BSC), the only state higher education institution in the northernmost part of the Philippine Archipelago traces her roots from two learning institutions created by specific laws of the Republic of the Philippines. Like old Ivatan houses, the Batanes State College has withstood the tests of scorching heat of the sun and the extreme whips of gales and typhoons over the years. It has also been a beacon of hope to both young and old who wish to savor the gift of quality tertiary education.

The Batanes School of Arts and Trades was established in 1967 by virtue of R.A. No. 4009. It was opened on August 7, 1967 with an initial appropriation of Php. 250,000.00. In 1969 – 1971, the school was accredited to offer post-secondary trade technical courses. Graduates of such courses were confirmed with the title of Associate in Industrial Technology. Ten years later, Vocational School Principal Escalona opened the BSAT Uyugan Annex with only seven teachers. It was noted to have become a promising National Trade School serving six municipalities of the Province of Batanes.

On March 1, 1995, President Fidel V. Ramos signed R. A. No. 7927, which converted the school into Batanes Polytechnic College through the sponsorship of Congressman Enrique C. Lizardo. Under the administration of Mr. Pedro Bunagan, the head administrator of the college, the academe opened its four-year degree courses, namely: Bachelor of Science in Industrial Education, Bachelor of Science in Industrial Technology, Bachelor of Science in Hotel and Restaurant Management and Bachelor of Science in Agricultural Technology. On June 11, 2001, a two-year Computer Programming was offered after TESDA's approval for the technical course.

By virtue of R. A. No. 9314, sponsored by Congressman Florencio "Butch" B. Abad, Batanes Polytechnic College was again converted to Batanes State College on August 7, 2004.

Fifteen (15) years thereafter and considering the unique geographic location of the island Province, we believe it is high time to establish the first University in the Province of Batanes. By converting the Batanes State College into a State University, we will be providing our fellow Ivatans an advance education, higher technological, professional instruction and training in different fields. They will no longer go to Cagayan State University (CSU) in Tuguegarao City or in any other Universities which is very expensive.

In view of the foregoing, immediate approval of this Bill is strongly sought.
