EIGHTEENTH CONGRESS
Second Regular Session
House Bill No. 6896

Introduced by REPRESENTATIVE ESMAEL "TOTO" G. MANGUDADATU

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Section 17, Article II of the 1987 Philippine Constitution mandates the State to give priority to education, science and technology, culture, and sports to foster patriotism and nationalism, accelerate social progress, and promote total human liberation and development. Relatively, Section 1, Article XIV of the same Constitution states that the State shall protect and promote the right of all citizens to quality education at all levels, and shall take appropriate steps to make such education accessible to all.

Corollary to the above-mentioned Constitutional provisions, it is apparent that the State has the obligation to ensure that quality education must be accessible and afforded to all citizens, not just for economic functions but for socio-cultural aspirations as well.

The Province of Maguindanao is a sprawling province located in the south-eastern board of Mindanao. As of the 2015 census, the province has a total of 1,173,933 residents in its thirty-six (36) municipalities, of which 89.3% has basic literacy. Furthermore, using 2012 data, the province's human development index (HDI) was pegged by the Human Development Network and the Philippine Statistics Authority to be among the lowest in the country at 0.309.

Despite all the physical and human development efforts of the Provincial Government of Maguindanao from 2010 to 2019, the low rate of human development, the low level of academic, commercial and industrial competence of its pool of human resources relative to its neighboring provinces, and the deplorable poverty among its constituents may be attributed to many factors. Among the most notable factors are the persisting culture of poverty and fatalism, the past mismanagement and negligence of past local administrations, the violent past of the province and the continuing activities of terrorist and bandit groups that operate in the area, the lack of investments and other employment opportunities, and the lack of accessible government higher institutions for learning, training and skills development given the sprawling and geographic terrain of the province.

Despite the presence of the Mindanao State University – Maguindanao Campus in Datu Odin Sinsuat municipality and the Upi Agricultural School in Upi municipality, both in Maguindanao's First District, and the University of Southern Mindanao Extension Campus in District 2's Buluan municipality, there are still numerous students who are deprived of their right to education, especially those from the far-flung and interior communities, by reasons of accessibility and lack of financial resources and by other factors relating to institutional limitations including facility, faculty, and the very limited curriculum of the aforementioned government higher learning institutions in the province. Consequently, the province and its people are beset with many problems, which are solvable through proper education and training.

Thus, there is a need to create a unified university system in Maguindanao province, with a charter that allows it to expand to strategic municipalities in Maguindanao, to improve its facilities, and to tailor its faculty and curricular offerings in order to serve better the educational and training needs and aspirations of the people, especially the youth and the pool of local manpower.

Hence, this Bill seeks to initially unify the Mindanao State University – Maguindanao Campus in Datu Odin Sinsuat municipality, the Upi Agricultural School in Upi municipality, and the University of Southern Mindanao Extension Campus in Buluan municipality to be known as the Maguindanao State University.
