EXPLANATORY NOTE

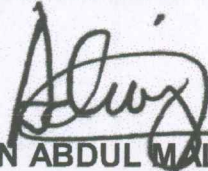

This bill seeks to rename the Marawi City – Kapai – Tagoloan II, Lanao del Sur road, stretching from Banggolo, Marawi City, traversing through the Municipalities of Kapai and Tagoloan, all in the province of Lanao del Sur to Senator Ahmad Domocao Alangadi Alonto Sr. Road in honor of a Meranao's pride and a world-renowned Muslim Filipino figure.

The late senator Dr. Ahmad Domocao Alangadi Alonto Sr. was a statesman, intellectual, educator, and an author, among many things. He became a Congressman, a Senator, a delegate of the 1971 Constitutional Convention, and a member of the 1986 Constitutional Commission. As a lawmaker, he became the chair of a special committee that sought to find solution to the so-called "Mindanao Problem." He authored several landmark legislations that include the establishment of the Mindanao State University (MSU), the creation of the Mindanao Development Authority (MINDA), and the law creating the Commission on National Integration. He continuously fought and strived for unity and peaceful co-existence among Muslims and Christians.

Senator Alonto was known to be one of the leading figures in advocating peace and development, especially in Mindanao. He was recognized as an exemplary Muslim leader who fought for Muslim rights and representation, locally and internationally. For his outstanding achievements, he received the King Faisal International Prize for Service to Islam Award in 1988 and is also recognized as one of the 100 Great Muslim Leaders of the 20th Century.

The renaming of the said road is one of the many small ways to honor one of the world's virtuous and distinguished Muslim leaders. It also serves as recognition of his unprecedented legacy and accomplishments that are being enjoyed by generations of Muslim Filipinos and Mindanaoans today. He helped in fostering camaraderie and embracing differences among Muslims and Christians and championed policies bridging Muslim Filipinos into the national fabric and to the rest of the Muslim world. The road is also a reminder to every member of the province or anybody that passes through this road, the rich history of the people of Lanao. The renaming seeks to inspire everyone to follow his standard and be key contributors to their own communities.

In view of the foregoing considerations, approval of this bill is earnestly sought for.
