House Bill No. 1439

Introduced by
REPRESENTATIVE JOSE MARIA R. ZUBIRI JR.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Philippines is a nation that prides itself on its practice of bayanihan, where the individual readily lends oneself to the needs of the community. In an archipelagic country that has been historically vulnerable to strife and disaster, it is crucially hopeful that every tragedy is offset by narratives of selflessness—of civilians braving storm surges to rescue their neighbors, of volunteers going into war-torn areas to provide much-needed aid.

Time has become every individual's most precious capital, this sense of selfless service has found an avenue in volunteerism. It comes as no surprise that the Philippines has a notable record of volunteer workers. In Charities Aid Foundation's World Giving Index 2017, the Philippines ranked 7th out of 139 countries with the highest number of volunteers. According to the report, about 25 million Filipinos did volunteer work in 2016.¹

This bill seeks to encourage even more volunteers by offering them due legal protection while rendering volunteer services for governmental entities, non-profit organizations, or the Philippine Red Cross. With this bill, volunteers, so long as they are acting in an emergency situation, are properly licensed, certified or authorized, and are acting within the scope of responsibilities assigned to them, will not have to fear facing misplaced legal action.

In view of the foregoing, approval of this bill is urgently sought.
