NINETEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 1518

Introduced by TUCP Party-List
Rep. RAYMOND DEMOCRITO C. MENDOZA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The right to self-organization is a universal human and workers' right as embodied in the ILO Convention No. 87 on Freedom of Association. The Convention emphasizes workers' right to establish and join organizations of their choosing "subject only to the rules of the organization concerned, xxx without previous authorization."

The Philippine Labor Code, however, has many provisions found by the ILO Committee of Experts in the Application of Conventions and Recommendations (CEACR) as prior restraint in the exercise of the freedom of association and inconsistent with the ILO Convention No. 87. Among the key findings is the excessive registration requirement for independent union, which is 20 percent minimum membership in Article 240(c), and the ten locals/chapters requirement for registration of a federation or national union in Article 244.

Hence, this Bill proposes to remove the 20 percent minimum membership requirement for registration of independent unions, and the ten unions or locals for federations or national unions are lowered to five. An independent union or a local/chapter only has to give notice of its creation to the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE) to be entitled to the rights and privileges of a legitimate labor organization to appropriately reflect the policy that 'registration' of unions is ministerial on the part of DOLE.

Additionally, the Bill emphasizes that the union constitution and by-laws, not administrative authority or regulation, should govern the elections of union officers. The same principle applies to the cancellation, now dissolution, of a union or labor organization.

The passage of this Bill is earnestly sought.
