HOUSE BILL NO. 5282

Introduced by REPRESENTATIVE ELEANDRO JESUS F. MADRONA

EXPLANATORY NOTE

With 7,641 islands, the Philippines continue to thrive as one of the best tourism destinations in the world, which is home to spectacular natural wonders, such as the Chocolate Hills of Bohol, Mayon Volcano of Albay, and Puerto Princesa Subterranean River National Park of Palawan. These wonders make tourism as one of the most promising industries in the country, which remains to be a powerful engine for a strong and sustained economic growth by creating job and investment opportunities, while preserving and developing our natural wealth for the succeeding generations.

The island Municipality of San Jose of the Province of Romblon used to be called Hambil and was initially inhabited by the Aetas. As it bears a semblance to a water buffalo's back, it was later renamed as Isla de Carabao by the Spanish conquistadores Miguel Lopez de Loarca. While the island is largely untouched, it is yet to be discovered by tourists across the world because it has the same treasures as powdery white sands and crystal-clear turquoise waters found in its famous counterparts, Boracay and Palawan, without the hustle and bustle for a peaceful, yet memorable leisure and recreation.

At the minimum, tourists can frolic in its tropical waters and witness the sunrise from Poblacion beach on the east side, while enjoying the rest of the panoramic viewpoints. The island offers a variety of experience for tourists like spelunking, cliff jumping, mountain biking, hiking, kiteboarding and windsurfing. Ultimately, with more than ten (10) dive sites around the island, it is certainly a promising diving paradise of the country, where tourists can marvel at the beauty of its underwater landscape with colorful species of fish and kaleidoscopic corals that continue to lure underwater photographers. Hence, several dive shops were already established in the island that are fully equipped and managed by the Professional Association of Diving Instructors (PADI).

The declaration of Isla de Carabao as a tourism destination is only fitting to continue to preserve and develop its natural beauty, while achieving its fullest potential as a top tier tourism destination in the country. It will also generate investments and promote socio-economic activities that will be beneficial not only to the Municipality of San Jose, but for the entire country as well.

In view of the foregoing, this bill is, therefore, earnestly recommended for immediate approval.
