

Republic of the Philippines
House of Representatives
Quezon City, Metro Manila

NINETEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 5446

INTRODUCED BY HON. ANNA YORK P. BONDOC, MD

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Under the 1987 Philippine Constitution, the State is mandated to “protect and promote the right to health of the people and instill health consciousness among them” (Section 15, Article II). It further provides that:

“The State shall adopt an integrated and comprehensive approach to health development which shall endeavor to make essential goods, health and other social services available to all the people at affordable cost. There shall be priority for the needs of the underprivileged sick, elderly, disabled, women and children. The State shall endeavor to provide free medical care to paupers” (Sect. 11, Art. XIII).

Health facilities and services, in order to be beneficial to the people, must be adequate, affordable and “accessible.” The problem with our health system is that the major specialty hospitals, namely, the Philippine Heart Center, the National Kidney and Transplant Institute, the Lung Center of the Philippines, the Philippine Children’s Medical Center, the Philippine Orthopedic Center, and the Philippine Cancer Center, are all located in the Metropolitan Manila area, specifically in Quezon City. Most Filipino patients residing outside the capital region, afflicted as they are with their ailments or injuries, are additionally burdened with the additional cost of transportation and accommodation. This sometimes insurmountable issue of distance tends to deny said patients with quality healthcare which in effect renders illusory the constitutional guarantee of “right to health” of our people.

This measure aims to establish a Central Luzon branch for these much needed specialty hospitals.

In light of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is most earnestly sought.
