HOUSE BILL NO. 6236

Introduced by Representative Rudys Caesar G. Fariñas I

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to establish a drug rehabilitation center in every region of the country.

The Dangerous Drugs Board reported that 1.7 million people are addicted to illegal drugs in the Philippines. According to the Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency, more than 8,000 barangays, or 92% of barangays in Metro Manila, are said to be drug-affected. This prevalence leads to drug-related health problems, loss of employment, increased school dropout, domestic violence, the commission of more crimes, and worse, death. Not only are the numbers and reports alarming, but drug addiction also magnifies more significant social dilemmas and hampers economic growth and social development.

The current administration centers its campaign on crime suppression and eradicating the drug trade. There are existing government and private sector-operated rehabilitation facilities for the users that offer their rehabilitation programs and services, but most are inaccessible and expensive. In addition, families in the province cannot meet the cost of placing their drug-dependent relatives in private rehabilitation centers.

This bill seeks to broaden the coverage of drug treatment and recovery programs for drug dependents by establishing a drug rehabilitation center in every region. This bill also provides for possible cooperation between private people's organizations or religious organizations and the government, through the Department of Health, to manage and operate rehabilitation centers.

The rehabilitation process is not just about treating the physical and mental state of the drug dependent. It also requires emotional preparation, psychological introspection, gradual social reintegration, and a post-monitoring mechanism to ensure permanent self-rediscovery and continued productivity.

Therefore, this representation respectfully calls for the immediate passage of this bill to start this comprehensive process of changing lives and bringing drug dependents back to their families and community.

Through this bill, drug dependents will have a more significant opportunity for rehabilitation and eventual reintegration into the community. With appropriate public-private sector partnerships, we can collectively help drug victims get back on track and pursue life aspirations that temporarily took a backseat.

Hence, this representation seeks the passage of this measure.
