NINETEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 6372

Introduced by Rep. Eleandro Jesus F. Madrona

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Ruins of Cotta de San Jose in the Municipality of Corcuera, Province of Romblon, is a fortress made from ground corals and eggs which was constructed during the 17th century for the purpose of defending the area against raids of Moro pirates.

While the fortress was damaged during the mid-sixties by an earthquake, a considerable portion of the structure still stands to bear witness to an important pre-Hispanic saga in the history of the municipality. The ruins stand as a monument replete with historical tales which remind the people of Corcuera of their ancestors' heroic struggles, resiliency, as well as their engineering ingenuity. Thus, the fortress deserves recognition and preservation for its historical and cultural value.

Therefore, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought pursuant to the Constitutional mandate to promote and popularize cultural and historical heritage and resources.
