

Republic of the Philippines
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Quezon City, Metro Manila

NINETEENTH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

House Bill No. 7020

INTRODUCED BY REP. JOSE "BONG" J. TEVES, JR.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Geriatrics or geriatric medicine is defined as the field of medicine that deals with the problems and diseases of old age and medical care and treatment of aging people.¹ Based on the 2020 census of the Philippine Statistics Authority, there are over 9,000,000 who are at least sixty (60) years old in the Philippines, and compared to the 2015 census, the said age group increased by 7.5%.

As Filipinos, our culture teaches us to give paramount importance to our elderly citizens. By this reason, many laws such providing priority, assistance, and support to our senior citizens were enacted through the years like Republic Act No. 9994 or the "Expanded Senior Citizens Act of 2010". An addition to those existing laws is this proposed measure to provide our senior citizens a specialty hospital which can cater to their medical needs which are brought about by their age.

Also, this measure is in consonance with Section 15, Article II of the 1987 Constitution which provides that the State shall protect and promote the right to health of the people and instill health consciousness among them.

Likewise, a similar measure through House Bill 10697 was filed by Rep. Bienvenido Abante, Jr. during the 18th Congress which was approved on third reading by the House of Representatives.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
