HOUSE BILL NO. 9142

INTRODUCED HON. RUWEL PETER S. GONZAGA

---

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The State's commitment to provide every Filipino an accessible gateway to the internet is very vital in the everyday lives of our citizens. Digital technology and digital transformation play a significant role in the rapid development and changes of economic growth, enhancement of public service, and empowerment of individuals and communities while getting along with new evolving trends.

On digital transformation, the BSP's policy agenda to include digitalization of the country's payments system seeks to further promote innovative contactless payment technology and encourage more Filipinos to get onboard into the formal financial system. The policy aims to digitalize at least 50 percent of retail payments, and at least 70 percent for the integration of Filipino adults to formal financial system or transactions. Complementing on this reform is the recently passed Financial Consumer Protection Act.

This legislation provides regulators more power to act on and improve the resolution mechanisms for financial consumer complaints including those involving cybercrimes. In line with our Digital Payments Transformation Roadmap, the BSP has also issued six digital banking licenses. According to PNP Cybercrime Group, telecom fraud scam, ATM/credit card fraud, e-wallet fraud, internet fraud/scam on commodities and fraudulent schemes conducted via the Internet are the most common types of internet scams. The Philippine banking industry has one of the key drivers of the country's economy, and the vulnerable victims of frauds. Thus, major banks in the Philippines have been closely coordinating with the Philippines National Police Cybercrime division on filing complaint for individuals, and groups scammers.

This bill seeks to protect consumers and the banking institutions from the wrongful act of individuals, group scammers and syndicates who are after bank accounts, e-wallets, and other financial accounts of individuals. To penalize and put a stop to the fraudulent activities of mules, and other syndicates who are involved in sabotaging the financial stability of individuals in violation of the Data Privacy Act.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
