HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TWENTIETH CONGRESS
1st Regular Session

House Bill No. 199

Introduced by Representatives EDVIC G. YAP

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Philippines is currently experiencing an ageing population. Based on the Commission on Population and Development, there are 8.7 million Filipinos who are over 60 years old as of 2018—representing 8.2 percent of the country's total population. The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD), on the other hand, reiterates that nearly 1.3 million older people are living in poverty at present. Furthermore, the latest World Social Protection Report from 2017-2019 shows that only 39.8% of people older than the statutory pensionable age in the Philippines receive an old-age pension, may it be contributory, noncontributory or both.

Age requisite has become a barrier in the employment of Senior Citizens. Needless to say, 70% of Filipino Senior Citizens still prefer working because most of their pension and retirement savings are insufficient to sustain their family and needs. In addition, the experiences they acquired during their tenured years are still present and can continue to contribute to the community. In fact, employing a portion of them is also tantamount to economic growth.

This bill seeks to widen employment opportunities for senior citizens and provide incentives to government and private entities who employ them, taking into cognizance the matching skills of the senior citizens to the jobs available. Henceforth, the approval of the bill is earnestly sought.
