TWENTIETH CONGRESS
First Regular Session
HOUSE BILL NO. 1820

Introduced by REPRESENTATIVES JOSEPH KIM C. YU and JEYZEL VICTORIA C. YU

EXPLANATORY NOTE

It is one of the primary duties of the State to ensure that all children are afforded basic education, regardless of their socioeconomic status or geographical location. The 1987 Philippine Constitution itself mandates the State to protect and promote the right of all citizens to quality education at all levels, making it accessible to all.

Due to the challenging terrain in the country, and because we are a nation filled with indigenous communities located in the most remote areas, many children have to travel for hours—by vehicle or even on foot—to reach the nearest available school. It is an unfortunate fact that Filipino children do not have the choice but to face the hard realities of achieving progress, including ones as basic as getting the first formative education.

This bill seeks to ensure the establishment of Last Mile Schools to be administered by the DepEd. These schools are to be located in the geographically isolated and disadvantaged and conflict-affected areas (GIDCA), highlighting the urge of government to provide accessible schools to the learners of basic education. This measure further emphasizes the mandate of the different agencies of the government in making this advocacy possible, such as the Department of Public Works and Highways in constructing structures, the Department of Energy for the electricity provision, and the Department of Information and Communications Technology for technical and information concerns.

For the importance and relevancy of the reasons aforementioned, passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
