House Bill No. 2442

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Data from the Department of Budget and Management shows that there are around 880,000 public school teachers in the Philippines. The latest report also shows that the teacher-to-learner ratio in 2018 is 1:29 in the elementary level, 1:25 in high school, and 1:29 in senior high.

This highlights the difficulties that our teachers face in providing quality education to our students. Despite the importance of their work, they are among the lowest paid government workers.

It is vital that the government attract the most competent and efficient teachers for the benefit of our students. To do this, the government must provide compensation and benefits, whether monetary or otherwise, commensurate to the work they perform and the contribution they make to the society.

In view of the foregoing, immediate approval of this measure is earnestly requested.
