TWENTIETH CONGRESS
First Regular Session

HOUSE BILL NO. 3228

Introduced by REP. EMILIO BERNARDINO L. YULO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Education is a fundamental right enshrined in the 1987 Constitution, which mandates the State to protect and promote the right of all citizens to quality education at all levels and to take appropriate steps to make such education accessible to all. However, children in geographically isolated and disadvantaged and conflict-affected areas (GIDCA) continue to suffer from limited or no access to public basic education. These areas are home to some of the most marginalized and underserved sectors of our population, including Indigenous Cultural Communities (ICCs) and Indigenous Peoples (IPs).

The Department of Education (DepEd) has identified “Last Mile Schools” as institutions facing the most serious challenges in delivering basic education. These schools typically lack permanent classrooms, electricity, access to technology, adequate teaching personnel, and are often located far from the centers of local governance. Some schools are reachable only by foot, across rivers or through mountainous terrain, making daily access physically demanding for both learners and educators.

This bill seeks to institutionalize a comprehensive and coordinated approach to address the challenges faced by Last Mile Schools through the establishment of public basic education schools in GIDCA and the construction of access roads and essential infrastructure. It directs the collaboration of national agencies such as the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH), the Department of Energy (DOE), the National Electrification Administration (NEA), and the Department of Information and Communications Technology (DICT) to ensure that these schools are not only built but also fully equipped with the infrastructure necessary for modern, quality education.

This bill affirms our collective commitment to closing the education gap, empowering marginalized communities, and laying the groundwork for inclusive and equitable national development. It recognizes that no Filipino child should be left behind, no matter how distant or disadvantaged their community may be.

In view of the foregoing, the passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
