House Bill No. 5523

Introduced by Representative Nelson S. Legacion

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Local Government Code of 1991 (Republic Act No. 7160) mandates that local government units (LGUs) provide basic services and facilities to their constituents. Among these essential services are public libraries and reading centers, which are fundamental to a well-informed and literate citizenry. This mandate was further strengthened by Republic Act No. 7743, also known as "An Act Providing for the Establishment of Congressional, City, and Municipal Libraries and Barangay Reading Centers Throughout the Philippines, Appropriating the Necessary Funds Therefor and For Other Purposes."

These laws declare a national policy to promote the moral and intellectual well-being of the people, elevate the literacy level of every Filipino, and recognize the vital role of knowledge and information in nation-building. However, a significant number of provinces, cities, municipalities, and barangays across the country still lack access to these crucial facilities. The challenges of limited LGU funds and high capital outlay for physical infrastructure often hinder the full implementation of these important laws.

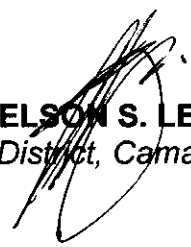

With the rapid advancement of the digital age, a cost-effective and modern alternative is to establish virtual libraries or "e-libraries" as digital resource centers. This approach significantly reduces the need for large physical spaces and extensive book collections, allowing for the rapid deployment of information hubs in areas that need them most.

Barangay San Roque in the Municipality of Bombon, Camarines Sur, is a suitable location for this initiative. According to the 2020 Census of Population and Housing which was conducted by the Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA), the barangay has a population of 2,603 people, a significant portion of whom are students, job seekers, and budding entrepreneurs. Providing this community with a dedicated digital resource center will not only comply with existing laws but also directly address the educational and socio-economic needs of its residents.

This proposed bill seeks to establish a Barangay Digital Resource Center (BDRC) in the Barangay Hall of San Roque. This BDRC aims to realize the "3E" vision of Education, Employment, and Entrepreneurship for the constituents of the 3D—the Third Congressional District of Camarines Sur. By providing a free and accessible digital platform equipped with at least three (3) computer units with internet access, the BDRC will serve as a vital hub for academic research, job applications, entrepreneurial activities, and general access to critical digital information.

This bill is a key part of a broader legislative effort to modernize the country's library system. The author has also filed complementary measures, including a bill to establish the Philippine Online Library, which will serve as the official digital repository for all textbooks and reference materials for public elementary and secondary education. In addition, another bill aims to create Late-Night Learning Hubs in all cities in the country. Together, these initiatives seek to transform traditional libraries into dynamic, digitally connected, and accessible learning centers for a new generation of Filipinos.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this proposed measure is earnestly sought.
