EXPLANATORY NOTE

Republic Act No. 11037, or the “Masustansyang Pagkain Para sa Batang Pilipino Act,” addresses child malnutrition through a national feeding program. However, the law can be further strengthened by directly supporting the small-scale farmers and fisherfolk who produce the food that sustains our schools.

This bill mandates that at least 30% of all food supplies for the National Feeding Program be procured from small-scale producers, ensuring both nutritional support for students and livelihood opportunities for local communities. It also directs the Department of Agriculture and other agencies to maintain a registry of small-scale producers and provide support such as training, equipment, credit access, and crop insurance.

By connecting school feeding programs with local food production, this measure nourishes Filipino children while empowering Filipino farmers—advancing both food security and rural development.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
