AN ACT

STRENGTHENING THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF GOVERNMENT
EMPLOYEES TO SELF-ORGANIZATION, COLLECTIVE BARGAINING
AND NEGOTIATION AND PEACEFUL CONCERTED ACTIVITIES AND USE OF VOLUNTARY MODES OF DISPUTE SETTLEMENT

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Philippines is a State party to 1978 Convention 151 of the International Labor Organization (ILO). Known as the Labor Relations (Public Service) Convention, Convention 151 is one of the chief human rights instruments of workers and employees in the public sector, being strongly founded both in essence and history on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights of the United Nations (UN UDHR).

The inhumane realities of the labor environment of public school teachers, who comprise the majority of the bureaucracy, often push them to complain—and with full truth and legitimate basis: “We are teachers, not carabaos!” “Mga guro-unionista kami, hindi terorista!” All too often, their unions and organizations, as well as other employees in the public sector who only seek to be the voice echoing the rights, interests, and welfare of their fellows in the bureaucracy, and to harness the power of collective action to gain victories for their sector through unionism, are maligned for it. They, and consequently, their unions, are the messengers who are shot for something which is only pursuant to our Constitution and international law. Unfortunately, “shooting the messenger” sometimes becomes literal. Either way, with all the red-tagging, terrorist-labelling, extrajudicial killings, trumped-up cases, and other acts of harassment and vilification, the messages—of just salaries and benefits, humane working conditions, and ending “endo,” to name a few—are dampened and chilled to silence. They remain unaddressed, to fester in the coming years.

2 It is therefore no wonder that the delivery of public services, especially in the 3 education, health, and social welfare sectors, have suffered, to the detriment of the 4 general public, especially the poor and marginalized in our society. Partly, it is because
5 government employees are left to suffer. They remain made to work like carabaos and
6 treated like criminals, their legitimate issues dismissed.
7

8 The need to protect government employees' right of association is as urgent as 9 the need to protect the government employees themselves.
10

11 This Bill therefore seeks to write into our statute books the protections found in 12 Convention 151, as well as the Freedom of Association and Protection of the Right to 13 Organize Convention (Convention 087, 1948), the Right to Organize and Collective
14 Bargaining Convention (Convention 098, 1949), the Workers' Representatives
15 Convention and Recommendation (Recommendation 143, 1971), and other instruments.
16 Major points of this bill are a statement of the right to self-organization, including the 17 right to peaceful concerted activities and the right to strike, the rights of organizations,
18 creation of the Public Sector Labor Relations Board, and collective bargaining and 19 negotiation, among others.
20

21 The right of public sector unions, their leaders, and members against red-
22 tagging—a vile act used as a tool to diminish and suppress unions and their legitimate
23 campaigns—is also expressed. Corresponding penalties for red-tagging and other
24 violations of the rights protected in this bill are included.
25

26 This version of the Public Sector Labor Relations Act was borne from House
27 Bill 2621 of Rep. Raymund Democrito Mendoza during the 18th Congress, after over 28 several sessions of consultation with representatives of public sector unions in the 29 education, health, social welfare, and other sectors.
30

31 For the foregoing reasons, approval of this Bill is earnestly sought.
