EXPLANATORY NOTE

The development of an integrated and efficient road network is vital to strengthening rural economies and ensuring equitable access to opportunities. The Aliaga – Quezon – Guimba Road, spanning approximately 20.55 kilometers, connects the municipalities of Aliaga, Quezon, and Guimba in the Province of Nueva Ecija and serves as a major inter-municipal route.

The road links key local thoroughfares and provides access to major arteries in Central Luzon. It facilitates the movement of agricultural products, supports local enterprises, and enhances mobility for residents traveling for work, education, and essential services. With increasing economic activity and traffic volume in the locality, the road has become a strategic link that extends beyond purely local significance.

Converting this road into a national road will ensure its systematic upgrading, regular maintenance, and long-term inclusion in the national infrastructure program, thereby promoting sustained economic growth in the First Legislative District of Nueva Ecija.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this measure is earnestly sought.
