EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Philippine government’s responsibility to provide safe, clean, accessible, and affordable drinking water, sanitation, and irrigation service to the public is of utmost importance, and it is attainable through well-coordinated, effective, efficient, and sustainable management of its water and sanitation resources. The Philippine government must take into consideration the rapid population growth, waterborne diseases like diarrhea, leptospirosis, and dengue, agricultural requirements for food and production, water pollution, watershed degradation, climate change, and other related factors that need to be adequately addressed without delay.

The proposed measure thus seeks to rationalize the water, irrigation, sewage, and sanitation resources management, including water rights, through the creation of the Department of Water, Irrigation, Sewage, and Sanitation Resource Management.

Currently, our national government consists of several agencies which take care of our water: the National Water Resources Board (NWRB), a government agency responsible for the enforcement of the Water Code of the Philippines, under the Department of Environment and Natural Resources

(DENR); the Local Water Utilities Administration (LWUA), a government-owned and controlled corporation (GOCC) attached to the Department of Public Work and Highways (DPWH) and has regulatory powers over all local water districts (LWDs) and rural waterwork and sanitation associations (RWSAs) nationwide; the Metropolitan Waterworks and Sewerage System (MWSS), a GOCC also attached to the DPWH, which is responsible for the water supply and sanitation in Metropolitan Manila and such contiguous areas as may be added to its are of jurisdiction; and the National Irrigation Administration (NIA), a government agency under the Office of the President primarily responsible for irrigation development and management.

With the regulation and management of the said water resources currently lodged with various units and agencies of the government, there have been various challenges and confusion in the coordination and implementation of the national policies and plans on water, sewage, sanitation, and irrigation.

The fragmentation among water-related agencies has resulted in a backlog in the provision of water supply and sanitation services to the public.

The proposed measure shall address the immediate need to create the Department of Water, Irrigation, Sewage and Sanitation Resource Management, which shall strengthen and coordinate water resource planning and policy-making to ensure sustainable and fair allocation and efficient use of water resources between competing water uses and users, including but not limited to domestic and municipal use, irrigation, power generation, farming, fisheries, commercial, and industrial use. The measure shall also prioritize and pursue the immediate attainment of universal access to safe, adequate, and sustainable water supply and sanitation services for all Filipinos and adopt all necessary measures directed towards the realization of providing a world-class, affordable, and sustainable water supply, sanitation, and sewerage system accessible to every Filipino.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
