EXPLANATORY NOTE

The story of the Philippines is rich with historical events that have shaped the nation's identity, culture, and beliefs. One pivotal moment in this storied history is the arrival of Ferdinand Magellan in the Philippines, specifically his landing on the island of Homonhon in the province of Eastern Samar on March 17, 1521. This event not only paves the way for the eventual circumnavigation of the world but also sets the stage for the introduction of Christianity to all of Asia, a faith that would become a cornerstone of Filipino identity.

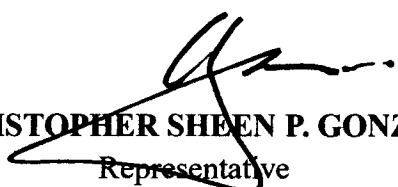

Despite its significance, this historic event has not been formally recognized with a public holiday in the region where it took place. The proposed measure, known as the "Homonhon Landing Day Act," seeks to rectify this oversight by declaring March 17 of every year as a special non-working holiday in the province of Eastern Samar. This act aims to honor the historical importance of Magellan's landing, not only to the local community of Eastern Samar but to the nation as a whole.

The observance of Homonhon Landing Day will provide an opportunity for reflection on the rich cultural heritage of the Philippines and the enduring impact of Christianity in the country. It will also serve as a platform for educational activities that can foster a deeper understanding among Filipinos, especially the youth, about this pivotal moment in our nation's history. By commemorating this day, we are not only paying homage to our past but also reinforcing our collective identity and the values that bind us as a people.

Furthermore, this special non-working holiday will contribute to the local economy and tourism of Eastern Samar, drawing attention to its historical sites and natural beauty. It will encourage Filipinos from other regions and tourists to visit, thereby promoting cultural exchange and understanding.

In light of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is earnestly sought. It is a step towards recognizing and celebrating our historical heritage, ensuring that future generations understand and appreciate the significant events that have shaped our nation.

In view of the foregoing, immediate approval of this bill is earnestly sought.
