EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Province of Marinduque has long been distinguished by its strong Catholic heritage, which forms an essential part of its cultural and historical identity. Central to this heritage is the devotion to the “Mahal na Ina ng Biglang Awa” (Our Lady of Prompt Succor), revered as the patroness of the Province of Marinduque.

This devotion traces its roots to the early spread of Christianity in Marinduque. For generations, the faithful have honored the Blessed Virgin Mary under this title, seeking her intercession and believing in her “sudden mercy” during times of need. Over time, this devotion became firmly rooted in the religious life and communal traditions of the Marinduqueños.

The Feast Day of the Mahal na Ina ng Biglang Awa, observed annually on November 11, is marked by religious rites, processions, and community gatherings that strengthen faith, unity, and cultural continuity. The celebration has evolved into a significant provincial tradition that reflects the values, history, unity, and identity of the people of Marinduque.

Declaring this feast day as a special non-working holiday will enable the people of the province to fully participate in a centuries-old tradition that holds profound religious and cultural importance. It will also contribute to local economic growth by fostering tourism and active community engagement.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is earnestly requested.
